The State Department of Education has approved the offering of a major in elementary education at UB on the master degree level, it has been announced by Dr. Raymond E. Wochner, dean of the College of Education.

"It will be possible," Dr. Wochner stated, "for teachers to begin this semester to complete work for the master's degree by June, 1952. Such a schedule would call for evening courses during Spring of this year, a full Summer session schedule, and evening work in the Fall and Spring next year."

The courses which will be inaugurated this Spring under this program will include principles of teaching arithmetic and methods of reading instruction. Other related courses which could be adopted to the master's program may also be undertaken at this time. Non-degree candidates may also enroll in any of the new courses.

BOOKS GALORE are in store for UB students due to the added capacity of the bookstore's new quarters. For the first time in the history of the University students will be able to buy texts off the shelves instead of the floor. Mrs. Dorothy Smith and Julius Vince (above) begin the tedious job of filling up shelves with books.

UBookstore Finds New Home In Annex of Cortright Hall

By GINNY TENNANT

From an insignificant beginning at the Main Academic Building, Fairfield Campus, the University Bookstore is now located permanently in the large and expansive Cortright Annex.

It is now more centrally located and there is a larger space for articles and books. "It will now be possible to work from the shelf instead of the floor," said Manager Dick Mountain.

Students registering will find it much easier and faster to buy their books and papers.

Among the many things in the book store that are sold are jewelry, pins, Greek letters, rulers, toothbrushes, candy, cigarettes, pipes, and tobacco.

The biggest highlight is the possibility of a post office which will enable the students and the faculty to mail all types of letters and packages. The bookstore has been inspected and further work is being awaited in answer to an application that has been sent to Washington.

In the near future, the Bookstore will make it possible for students to sell their used books and to buy new ones. This will be the first time that the bookstore has offered this service on any large scale.

Manager Mountain added that he would appreciate any comments concerning the set-up of the bookstore or suggestions for accommodating the students in any further way.

'Arts' Seniors Discuss UB, Future at Meeting

A meeting of seniors in the College of Liberal Arts will be held in the Carlson Lecture Hall, Tech Building, this Friday at 3 P. M. Dean Clarence D. L. Ropp has requested the seniors presence to discuss their plans for the future and receive their constructive criticisms of UB.

Seniors are required to bring a copy of the UB catalog and a pencil. Those students who have classes at the time of the meeting are not expected to attend the Arts and Science meeting.

Members Spearhead Search For Missing Prince Valiant

By RUTH ZUCKER
Political Reporter

THE SCHOOL MASCOT IS MISSING!! Has anyone seen the dog's owner, Roland Blais? As this column went to press, these two significant University figures were not to be found anywhere in the immediate Connecticut area. The Council is looking for them, the administration is looking for them, the Mascot Committee is looking for them, and the student body is also included in the search.

During the course of the last few Student Council meetings, representatives have been working on a Mascot Plan that will meet with the approval of the now hesitant administration. The administration has had its doubts, and rightly so, about allowing for the retention of the Great Dane as the official school mascot. They feel that the legal involvements surrounding this idea might result with the responsibility and the liability falling back on the University.

The new Mascot Plan has been revised to incorporate the administration's wishes. The outstanding features of this plan are:

1. A Mascot Committee, appointed by the Student Council each year, to be responsible with the owner, for the supervision of the Great Dane.
2. The maintenance of a $50,000 liability insurance policy on the Dane.
3. A surplus of $150 to $200 to be maintained in a local bank account by the Mascot Committee.

Mr. Floyd Brewer, acting as a liaison between the administration and the Student Council, has given his personal approval to this plan. Both the Director of Student Activities and the Council feel that this plan will meet with the same unanimous acceptance on the part of the administration as was met by the members of the Student Council at their last meeting.

As it stands, the whereabouts of the Great Dane are still a mystery. Roland Blais, the initiator,

UB 'Sweetheart' To Reign During Valentine Ball

By BARBARA DYSON

Today is St. Valentine's Day, which reminds us that Friday night is the annual "Sweetheart Dance." For the last few weeks the campus has been held in suspense wondering what lucky candidate will be chosen as UB's Campus Sweetheart.

Jacoby Foundation Gives $1000 Start To Speaker Fund

Frank Jacoby, president of the Frank Jacoby Foundation, Inc., has presented a gift of $1,000 to UB for the establishment of a lecture series on the Brotherhood of Man, it has been announced by President Halsey. Mr. Jacoby will make this annual gift of $1,000 to the University during his lifetime and after his death it is possible that the Jacoby Foundation will make similar grants to perpetuate the lecture series.

Under the terms of the gift, the University will bring an outstanding national figure to the campus each year for a lecture or lectures open to the public. In commenting on the gift, President Halsey said, "This will make it possible for the University to expand and extend its usefulness to the community."

The purpose of the Jacoby Lectures will be to promote and stress the brotherhood and equality of man regardless of race, color, or creed. The University will administer the lectures under the supervision of a special committee comprised of the president, a dean, a faculty member, the president of the Student Council, Mr. Jacoby, and possibly others from the community. This is the first such grant which the University has received for this purpose.

The Jacoby Lectures will emphasize especially the humanitarian aspects of life in a national community. The first lecture will be given in 1951-52 according to Pres. Halsey. It is the hope of the University that these lectures will be given during Brotherhood Week.

The seven co-eds who vied for the title of queen in elections held Monday and Tuesday are: Phyllis Montanaro, Abby Elstein, Barbara Sage, Diane O'Hanna, Patricia Rogoff, Barbara Reines, and Arline Fleischer.

The dance will be held from 9-1 at the Ritz Ballroom. A gathering of over 1,500 students and their guests is expected to dance to the music of the Yale Collegians and witness the crowning of the Sweetheart Queen by Pres. James H. Halsey. Last year's queen, Patricia Kelly, will be on hand to present the annual Silver Cup to her successor.

Sid Litwak, who was one of this year's famous Thunderettes, is in charge of the affair, assisted by Ben Snow, Claire Saltman, Ed Anderson, and Charles Smith. Mimme Rosoff and Zonnie Klime, the girls responsible for the beautiful Christmas Ball, will again be in charge of decorations.

Admission to the dance may be obtained by showing your new Students Activities book at the door Friday night.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 11...
THE OPOSSUM

The class clown went out on a limb and tried to prove cigarette mildness by the quick-trick method! He tried the fast inhale, fast exhale test—a whiff, a sniff—and they still left him up in the air! But then he got his feet on the ground. He learned that there is a reliable way to discover how mild a cigarette can be! And that test is...

The sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke—on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why...

ator of the mascot campaign and owner of the Dane, has left school and cannot be located. The group that has called themselves the Mascot Committee does not appear to be functioning.

Question of the week: Is the student body still interested in the mascot or was the unusual burst of college spirit just a reaction to the "forbidden fruit?"

Debaters Meet Hofstra; Split Wesleyan Series

UB's Debating Society will meet teams from Fairfield University and Hofstra College, Long Island, today. In both meets Bridgeport will take the affirmative on the national topic: "Resolved, that the non-Communist nations should form a new international organization."

Last month the debating society split a home and home series with Wesleyan University with the UB affirmative team losing to the Wesleyan debaters who are regional champions. The negative team defeated the Wesleyan debaters who are winners of the Little Three Conference.

There has been a great deal of talk around the campus about the need of presenting fraternity news to the student body in a proper light. It is the hope of the SCRIBE Editorial Board that Bill Desmond's new column will fill this need. The column will appear in this spot bi-monthly for the rest of the semester. Its success or failure will depend upon the reaction of the reader.

Your College Editor

Profs can sit crosslegged on the top of a desk; dean's list students can let down their guard; student body presidents can fraternize with the masses.

Only editors are required to be pontifical always.

Only editors are supposed to know everything that happens, so it is taken for granted that they already know it, and nobody ever tells them anything; only editors are supposed to keep open minds always, and at the same time make snap decisions for each political impasse; only editors are required to keep their noses out of politics, meanwhile keeping tab on each separate lineup.

Only editors have to guess.

Only editors have to grope blindly along, trying to put out a paper for a student body and faculty who will only talk behind their backs, who will never tell them what they like or don't like, who will squawk audibly only when they are mortally and irreparably wounded, who never thank them when they say anything nice or censor anything nasty about them, who have to be tracked down, cornered, and beaten insensible before they will so much as give them a news lead.

Profs have the satisfaction of seeing their teachings put into practice; dean's list students are an inspiration to their successors; student body presidents can point with pride at year's end to long rows of achievements.

Only editors never accomplish anything.

Only editors have to endure the spectacle of copies of their paper on the men's room floor; to find the layouts on which they and their staffs have spent hours of work completely unappreciated; to feel that their editorial campaigns which they have planned for months, which are their only method of criticism of their school and society, coldly ignored.

Profs get to sit on the stage; dean's list students don't always have to attend classes; student body presidents get to introduce visitors.

Only editors are damnfool enough not to want to trade places with any of them.

And, when all's said and done, only editors have the satisfaction of knowing that their thousands of words a week are written down in letters that can never be erased; of feeling something in a way which must have immediate and lasting effect; of sensing that they are doing a job for the students which no one else could do in quite the same way; and last, but not least, of being sure of a staff that, no matter how much they are forced to abuse them, overwork them, deny them any reward for their work, will be driven back for more by pure love of literary effort. Only editors could gripe about it.

FRATERNITY OF THE WEEK

Fraternity life was born on the UB campus with the approval of the Sigma Phi Alpha charter by the Board of Trustees on Oct. 3, 1947. The groundwork for the fraternity was laid by nine students who played touch football together under the name of "The Wiffenpoofs." In honor of this group, nine indications appear on the fraternity crest.

Mathew Morris, first class president of the Junior College was one of the nine original organizers and the first president of the fraternity.

Life for SPA was launched with a formal dance on Oct. 31, 1947, at Long Hill Grange. The fraternity is more noted, however, for its annual one hundred dollar athletic scholarship.

CINEMA COMMENTS

Sunset Boulevard Is 50's Top Pic

By James T. Mehorter, Jr.

U. S. film critics seem to unanimously agree that the two best pictures of 1950 were Paramount's Sunset Boulevard and 20th Century-Fox's All About Eve. The National Board of Review put Sunset Boulevard first, with Gloria Swanson, in her sensational screen comeback, the year's best actress. For his remarkable job in Cyrano De Bergerac, Jose Ferrer received the top actor award.

My Foolish Heart, released about one year ago this month, won an extraordinary third place. It was added that if My Foolish Heart had been held back a few months, it might have easily attained an even higher position.

Vendetta (RKO) is an adaptation of Prosper Merimee's "Colomba," a tale of blood-feuding in early nineteenth-century Corsica. Strangely enough, the word "vendetta" meant one thing to the island's inhabitants: the right of a family's eldest son to kill anyone who murders one of his relatives. . . . The plot is obvious.

Faith Domergue, a jet-haired, exotic Creole beauty, has been tabbed another Jane Russell. Her vital statistics well ascertain this. However, we cannot consider her acting seriously. And, since the script calls on her to do nothing else except look savagely voluptuous, it is not her fault that her monomaniacal dedication to eye-for-eye bloodletting fails to generate the heat she so valiantly tries to give it.

Devils At Armory Saturday; Purple On Road Tonight

By Bill Chambault, Jr.

An in-and-out UB basketball team plays host to a good New Britain Teachers quintet Saturday night at the State Armory in the feature game on this week's UB hoop program. Starting time for the varsity encounter is listed for 8:30 P. M.

UB makes one other showing during the period, a road contest with Becker in Worcester, Mass. tonight. Opening whistle for this fray also has been set for 8:30 P. M.

Saturday evening's tussle will mark the second in a home-and-home series with the State Teachers College. The first was contested last season in the Hardware City and the Blue Devils prevailed by a resounding 66-49 score. The beating was the worst administered to UB in the 1949-50 campaign.

New Britain Has Edge

New Britain comes to town with an excellent record that boasts nine wins in its first 12 tries. Included among its victims is New Haven Teachers, a team that collared the Purple by a 71-59 count. If only off their record, the Devils must be accorded a healthy edge to down UB.

In tonight's battle, Becker, a business school, will try to give the same to the Purple as payment for the 68-51 blasting inflicted it last year by UB in Knights of Columbus Hall.

The Bay Staters have not caused any eyebrows to be raised over their season's play. Also taking into consideration the improvement in the Purple's performances on the road, this department believes UB will be able to get by the Worcester team. Two years ago, however, Bridgeport traveled to Becker and dropped a heart-breaking one-point decision.

UB Team Depleted

As a note in passing, Bridgeport's original squad of 15 men has been trimmed by an even half-dozen since the season's start. Add to this the fact that two other players have been hampered by season-long injuries, and you can readily see the way Dame Fortune has been neglecting the Purple.

Major loss in UB's scheme of thinking was the decision of freshman ace, Teddy Brennan, to leave school for "personal and domestic" reasons.

Others who have departed are Brennan's roommate and another frosh star, Joe Rizzo; Herb Krakower, George (Skip) Stanton,

KBR, Hatchetmen Lead IM Tourney

By AL GROSBY

As we roll into a new semester, two familiar faces continue to dominate the Intramural Basketball Leagues. In the fraternity league, the sensational Kappa Beta Rho quintet, undefeated in three years of tournament play and defending Intramural champions, remain the class of their loop. The Hatchetmen, riding a string of five consecutive wins, continue to pace the Independents.

The other teams in the league should not feel downheartened at the success of the loop leaders. The three top teams in each league will compete in the playoffs with the eventual winner being proclaimed Intramural Basketball champion.

Charlie Kozulko, Quinten Geter, Bob Alechnowicz, who did not make the New England trip and therefore must be presumed lost, and Burt Wolpin, who has been in and out of uniform like a volunteer fireman.

Add to this list the mishaps to Lou Saccone and Fred Flashenberg and you have a rather drab Purple painting. Saccone's play has been hindered by a season-long ankle hurt, while Flashenberg has been repeatedly inactivated by an ankle and other assorted bruises.

Table Tennis Playoffs Slated to Start Soon

"Beware, the Ides of March," said William Shakespeare, in what some insist refers to the income tax deadline. We here at UB, however, know that the now famous date of March 15, signifies the beginning of the Intramural Table Tennis Tournament.

As we go to press, the only name submitted is Upsala Beta Sigma's ace, Charles Zalinger. The winners of all fraternity and dormitory elimination tournaments are urged to submit their names to the Intramural office as soon as possible.

KBR Holds Slight Lead In IM Bowling Loop

Kappa Beta Rho fraternity continues to prove its versatility in the world of sports, as their bowling team, following in the footsteps of the KBR basketballers, reign supreme in the Intramural Bowling ladder.

The KBR bowlers, while undefeated in league play, are receiving stiff competition from Theta Sigma and SAM who boast identical 10-2 records.

Foul Shooting Tourney To Start This Friday

This Friday the Intramural Foul-Shooting Contest gets underway. The only teams eligible to compete are those now playing in the Basketball tournament. Five men will represent each team, and each man will attempt 50 shots. There will be a trophy awarded to the winning team and an individual award to the high man.

Sink Sank Sunk Stink Stank Stunk

By ED PETTIT

About seven Purple and White swim trunks will be filled for the last time this season when the Knights traverse Long Island Sound for a Saturday session with Adelphi College in Garden City, L. I.

The UB record book, which has been splattered by seven red-ink losses and the Coach's tears, has threatened to drown itself unless its gets an injection of a black-ink victory.

ADELPHI ALSO AWFUL

Adelphi's tank log also has been ripping out its pages in remorse with an equally sad season to display. However, a comparison of the two squads indicates that Parker's blackest Quink will be flowing on this side of the Sound for the first time, while the Brown and Gold book appears destined for a ruptured appendix or a few more fallen leaves.

On Jan. 13 the good ship USMMA docked at the "Y" and came within a split second of being capsize by the forces of Tamashunas. With the score tied 34-34, the Mariners captured the final and deciding relay event by one beat of a heart-pounding finish. It was so close that if our anchorman had not been in the habit of biting his fingernails, that extra length shorn off would have meant victory.

RELAY TEAM SHORT

Coach Ed Tamashunas was well justified in singing the UB Blues, and the theme was definitely "that third man"; for it was the lack of strength in the third leg of the four-man relay team that allowed the sailors to ship out with a 41-34 win. However, the UB 100-yard freestyle mark walked the plank with Frank Anastas applying the blindfold.

A week later the Purple Crusaders of Holy Cross out-jousted the Purple Knights in a tank tourney, 31½ to 41½.

ELLIS EXCELLS

Although UB was dismantled for the fifth time, it also marked the fifth University record in a row to fall. Dick Ellis authored a new 220 freestyle time despite the fact that someone pulled the plug from the tank and Dick had to swim the last 10 yards on wet cement.

A little later and still weak, Tammy's tankers, armed with birth certificates and French dictionaries, entrained for Montreal, Canada and McGill University. About the only thing they were able to prove to the Redmen was their ages. Jim Mehorter's diving triumph and the 200-yard freestyle relay won by tank mates, Don Nordin, Augie Woerner, Dick Ellis, and Anastas in 1:37.7—another UB record—escaped the massacre.

Last Saturday, after six straight reversed decisions, UB put its two-year undefeated record against Brooklyn Poly to its third tank trial.

ANASTAS ATTACKS AGAIN

BPI opened proceedings by scoring in the 300-yard medley relay. Frank Anastas then overruled Poly's initial success with a brilliant demonstration in the 220-yard freestyle event in which eight seconds were stricken from the University record. (At this point former owner Ellis demanded a recount.)

Don Nordin, a star witness in UB's defense of its title, displayed a "hydro-matic" drive in winning the 50-yard dash.

The Billboard

By BILL CHAMBAULT, JR.

If you pardon the expression, we would like to know when UB is going to "smarten up," athletically speaking, that is. We've been noticing the past two and one-half years the actions of those influential in directing the school's athletic policy. And over that period of time, we have, on a good many occasions, frowned upon the ways and means the officials have of running the sports program.

However, for one reason or another we shied clear of offering any open comment about their work, preferring instead to go along merely as an interested bystander. And we probably would still be maintaining this "hush-hush" policy if it were not for an article we read in the Monday edition (Feb. 5) of a local newspaper.

Said article pertained to the resigning from UB of Lee Theodore Brennan of his own volition for "personal and domestic" reasons. Now it just happens we have a special interest in the fortunes of Ted, who among his other activities, is, or should we say, was the basketball team's high-scorer at the time of his departure. And because of this certain attachment toward Ted we have finally persuaded ourselves to speak our piece against the entire athletic program at UB which smells to the high heavens. And let anybody deny it.

The way the moguls are operating now they are moving not forward but backward. And making good strides in that direction, too. Their "methods of madness" are losing players and games and fans and money.

A quick glance at a small list of stand-out performers who have departed UB for one reason or another will give you some idea of what is taking place. John Dimenna and Norm Victor, Willie Moran and George Pappas, Johnny Hustek and Jim Roche; now Brennan and Joe Rizzo. See what we mean? And if you include those players who are not able to play with UB teams because of either financial or academic reasons although they are still in school, your list would be even more imposing.

And what are the officials doing to prevent this wholesale evacuation from the UB campus? Exactly nothing. It's a wonder ANY athletes are at UB. What's in it for them? What can they benefit? You guessed it; nothing.

A half or even a full tuition to athletes (grudgingly given by the powers-that-are) is fine as far as it goes. But what about the players who are in need of real financial aid, especially those living out-of-town? When they come to Bridgeport they, like most human beings, desire a room and food; but because of the unequaled miserliness of UB officials, they are forced to pay out of their own pockets for said needs. Unless, of course, they are one of the select few who are given a cherished job in the Marina Hall dining room where they are then "allowed" to work for their meals. This neither leaves them sufficient hours for a bit of relaxation and then serious studying nor does it account for the unpaid room rent.

In these days of "big-time" college sports, schools must go out and get and then keep their athletes. Some schools may use one method, another institution may employ other means. But the problem remains the same no matter what college you consider; if you want winning teams you have to get them and keep them.

UB's officials profess to want winning teams but they are reluctant to obtain them. The budget won't permit us to do this or to do that, they say. Yet they insist on tossing more money into projects that have already cost them their proverbial right arms. An excellent example of this is football.

The administration will not provide sufficient financial aid for needy athletes. How, pray tell, do they expect to field top teams? Evidently, they don't; but desire to conceal this truth from UB's students and fans.

Classic remark we heard in our tenure at UB was one Pres. James H. Halsey made at the 1949 Spring athletic banquet. Quote President Halsey: "Some day I hope to see a football team representing UB play in a bowl game, and our basketball team perform in one of the large arenas in our country."

Who, at UB, doesn't harbor that wonderful thought? But, President Halsey, how do you expect to accomplish this? With mirrors? Unless the Athletic Policy Committee is injected with a small pointed instrument in the lower portion of the back, we're afraid you may have to reach for your reflecting glasses.

Honor Society Initiates Eleven Alumni

Eleven alumni members including ten men and one woman of UB were recently initiated into Aristeia, the University's honor society. This was the third initiation into the society since it was formed in March, 1950, and makes a total membership of 34, of which three are women.

Vincent C. Irving, president, Warren O. Benson, vice president, and Bernard J. Bresosky, treasurer, all of Bridgeport, conducted the initiation ceremonies. Dr. Eugene H. Falk, faculty adviser, welcomed the new members into the society.

Aristeia, the University's first honor society, is comparable to Phi Beta Kappa fraternity in its qualifications and set-up. It will admit students who have reached at least their sixth college semester and who have a cumulative grade point ratio of 3.2 and 3.5 for all major subjects.

New members include Merwin Gibbs, Anthony Pellegrino, Angelo C. Memoli, Rodney S. Eilson, Everett C. Phillips, Warren Schenker, Ethel Jacobovits, Victor C.

Swain, Nichols; Ernest C. Goudreau, Harry G. Bandazian, and Milton C. Calechman.

Following the ceremonies there was a social hour in Bishop Hall Lounge. Miss Maria Hatzilambrou and Miss Mary Evanstock were hostesses. The next initiation into the society will be held at the end of the Spring semester.
